Consider Plan
To Aid Jobless

CHICAGO (AP)—An advisory board today considered emergency proposals of Gov. Otto Kerner for liberalizing Illinois unemployment compensation benefits. The nine-member board, appointed last weekend by the governor was called into session by State Labor Director, Robert Johnston to consider recommending higher weekly payments and making benefits available to those whose eligibility for relief payments has expired.

South Digs Out
Of Record Snow

Sunny weather and rising temperatures lent a hand today as Virginia, Maryland and West Virginia dug out from a record snowfall that all but paralyzed the hardest hit areas.

Schools were closed in hundreds of localities in the three states. Two Virginia highway deaths were attributed to the storm.

Calls Idle
Plight Worst
Since War

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Labor Department today added 25 major industrial centers to its list of substantial unemployment areas. A spokesman called the idle situation the worst since early World War II.

The new areas reported with an idle rate of 6 per cent or more of their work force included Philadelphia, Cleveland, Baltimore, Los Angeles, Newark, St. Louis and Kansas City.

At the same time, it was announced that Secretary of Labor Arthur Goldberg will make a five-state inspection of unemployment areas beginning Friday. He is making, at President Kennedy's direction, a series of on-the-spot tours of areas where unemployment is considered a major problem.

Goldberg will visit Chicago, Gary and South Bend, Ind., and Lansing, Mich., Friday; Detroit and Columbus, Ohio, Saturday; and Pittsburgh Sunday.

The new Labor Department survey of major labor centers showed that the aggregate rise in unemployment in the 150 major areas surveyed increased about 50 per cent between November and January.

Ike's Most Vital
Problem Now
Good Golf Game

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower—last month a chief of state—addressed himself today to his most serious current program: that grapefruit grove to the left of the first fairway.

His first California golf drive as a private citizen Wednesday ailed into citrus trees lining the emerald green fairway at the luxurious Eldorado Country Club.

"Take a mulligan," said his friend and golfing companion, George Allen. A mulligan is a second strike—which doesn't count—which golfers allow themselves on the first tee.

Ike did. A crowd of bystanders applauded as the ball soared 220 yards right down the middle.

Ike and his wife arrived from the East at dawn Wednesday by train at San Bernardino, 50 miles west of here.

Johnston said he hopes that the board will come up quickly with "an agreed bill and that the legislature will approve it by the two-thirds vote necessary to make the changes effective immediately upon adoption."

The number of jobless receiving unemployment pay rose 5.6 per cent during the week ended Feb. 4, to 188,346, and the number of new applications for compensation jumped 16.5 per cent, to 26,577.

Johnston declined to say what amount of increase in weekly checks is favored by administration leaders, but asserted earlier this week that the Illinois maximum of $50 "is the lowest for any of the big industrial states."

The retroactive proposal would make benefits available for up to three months, retroactively, for unemployed persons who have exhausted their eligibility for compensation.

The normal period for which compensation is payable is 26 weeks, but when more than 4.376 (Continued On Page Nine)

Hunt For Lawyer Accused Of Cheating Clients

PRINCETON, Ill. (AP)—A grand jury today continued its investigation of a lawyer accused of cheating clients of an estimated $250,000 before he vanished two weeks ago.

Police, meanwhile, continued their search for the lawyer, Len D. Spaulding Jr., 44, who disappeared Jan. 24 after a warrant was issued for his arrest.

Spaulding, suspended from law practice before the Bureau County Circuit Court, was accused by another Princeton attorney of forging at least two promissory notes on one $11,400 trust deed.

Two civil suits have been filed against Spaulding in county court—one by the estate on which the $11,400 trust deed was issued, and the other by the Bureau County Bar Association.

State's Atty. Donald C. Martin said the exact amount of money involved in the lawyer's alleged wrongful activities hasn't been determined. Martin had scheduled 15 alleged victims to appear before the grand jury.

Spaulding, a father of three youngsters and a civic leader, was traced to Peoria and East St. Louis since he vanished. He reportedly bought a revolver and some shells in Peoria.

The lawyer, like other attorneys in this small town of 6,700, frequently acted as a lending and borrowing agent.

The bar association charges that Spaulding collected money for borrowers twice on the same trust deed.

Hopes Dim For Agreement With
USSR On 3-Power Unit For Laos

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

That is the basis for a Western formula for ending the war in Laos and uniting the Southeast Asian country under a policy of neutrality.

Spot Sputnik
Where Russ Said
It Would Pass

EDINBURGH, Scotland (AP)—The Soviet Union's giant new Sputnik passed over Edinburgh early today just as the Soviets said it would.

Scientists at the Edinburgh Royal Observatory spotted the seven-ton satellite after the Soviet government had sent them a telegram telling them when to watch for it. It was Moscow's first information in the Sputnik's course since the announcement Saturday that it was circling the earth.

A spokesman said the Sputnik was seen with the naked eye and had the appearance of a second magnitude star as it swung over the city shortly before dawn. But the overcast prevented the observatory photographing it, he added.

Moscow has given no progress report on the new satellite since announcing Saturday that it had been launched into orbit. No radio signals have been heard from it by Western scientists trying to track its course.

More than 1,000 patents were issued to inventor Thomas A. Edison.

Dirksen Calls For Truth On Missiles

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—A fresh congressional weapons inquiry was in the making today as Republicans assailed as political President Kennedy's statement he isn't ready to say if there is a missile gap.

Responding to a demand by Sen. Prescott Bush, R-Conn., chairman Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., said the Senate Armed Services Committee will call service chiefs of staff before it about Feb. 20 for questioning on the issue as part of its annual review of the national defense posture.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois called on Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara to "tell the truth" about a Pentagon briefing of newsmen which led to published reports there is no gap between American and Soviet missile strength.

Sen. Styles Bridges, R-N.H., challenged as a "shifting of position to avoid the facts" Kennedy's repudiation of these reports at a news conference Thursday.

Dirksen said in an interview he (Continued On Page Nine)

Two Face Jail
As Court Upholds
Tax Conviction

CHICAGO (AP)—The U.S. Court of Appeals has affirmed the income tax evasion convictions of three officers of the defunct Shotwell Manufacturing Co. of Chicago.

Two of them—Byron A. Cain, 60, and Harold E. Sullivan, former president and executive vice president, respectively—face jail terms of three years each. The third defendant, Frank Huebner, 68, former company comptroller who turned government witness, was placed on three years' probation.

The three also were fined from $5,000 to $10,000 in the much-litigated case. They were charged with evading $286,000 in taxes in unreported income of more than $500,000 for 1945 and 1946.

They were originally convicted in a jury trial in U.S. District Court on Oct. 17, 1953. The case was subsequently appealed, remanded and reheard by U.S. District Judge Gunnar Nordbye of Minneapolis, and the sentences were reimposed.

The appeals court ruling, issued Wednesday was written by Judge Elmer J. Schnackenberg and concurred in by Judges F. Ryan Duffy and Kenneth P. Brubb of Milwaukee.

The prosecution says they furnished the secrets to Lonsdale, who took them to the Krogers for transmission to a spy master in Moscow.

A-Sub
Details
Stolen

By HAL R. COOPER

LONDON (AP)—A witness testified today details of Britain's first nuclear submarine were among Royal Navy secrets stolen by five persons accused of spying for the Soviet Union.

The witness was Capt. George Symonds, director of the underwater weapons section of a naval research station at Portland. Symonds was shown photographs alleged by detectives to have been found in the possession of Gordon Lonsdale, one of the defendants, when he was arrested Jan. 7.

The officer said the photographs were of pages of a secret book giving particulars—many of them highly secret—of British war vessels, including the nuclear sub, Dreadnought.

The Dreadnought is powered with an atomic reactor based on U.S. Navy designs.

The five defendants watched while a security agent showed some of the spy gadgets they allegedly used in their work.

The agent, identified only as "Mr. L," demonstrated photographic apparatus he said was suitable for making microdots, a favorite Soviet method of transmitting information secretly. Each microdot is a tiny bit of film no larger than a printed period. But when properly magnified it blossoms out into a photograph of an entire page of typewriting or of a book.

"Mr. L" told a magistrate he found the microdot apparatus at the homes of three of the defendants—Lonsdale, 37, Peter Kroger, 50, and Kroger's wife Helen, 47. The other defendants are Harry F. Houghton, 55, and Ethel Gee, 46, both employees of the underwater weapons.

The prosecution says they furnished the secrets to Lonsdale, who took them to the Krogers for transmission to a spy master in Moscow.

Two other teen-age children, who remained quietly up stairs unknown to the gunman, turned police with a description of the abductor's car.

The girl escaped from the car on Folker's Road about 10 miles from her home and ran to a farm house.

A five-county alarm was issued for the abductor who was described as about 30 years of age and driving a light colored, late model car.

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—Police said a 17-year-old girl was abducted and sexually molested early today by a gunman who forced his way into the victim's farm home.

Peoria County Chief Deputy Sheriff Thomas Chitwood said the girl managed to break away from her attacker after being held captive for more than an hour.

Chitwood quoted the girl's parents as saying the man, armed with a shotgun, forced his way into their home about 10 miles west of Peoria after asking to use the telephone.

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Agriculture Department official said today the Kennedy administration intends to marshal all available resources to end what he called rural poverty.

John A. Baker, director of Agricultural Credit Services, told newsmen the new administration plans to intensify efforts of the rural development program, set up by the Eisenhower administration to work in this field. Baker will take over direction of this program.

Under the Eisenhower administration, this program had been extended to about 550 of the roughly 3,000 rural counties of the country. It was largely an educational and technical assistance program, with the federal government acting largely to bring state and local agencies and civic groups together to deal with problems of low income farmers.

Federal expenditures ran about $3,240,000 a year, largely for administrative costs.

The Kennedy administration plans a program that would cost upwards of $40 million the first year. It would include loans and grants—loans to help set up rural public facilities and grants to farmers being trained for non-farm jobs during the training period.

Baker said intensified efforts will be made to help local groups set up new industries to help provide jobs for farmers seeking opportunities off the land. He said it will be a goal to have these industries locally owned and controlled.

The extent of the problem was emphasized by the 1960 farm census, which showed there are roughly 1,670,000 farms with annual sales of less than $3,000. These farms have insufficient volumes of production to afford adequate income, regardless of the levels of crop price supports.

Begin Cleanup Of Debris From Burst Main

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Residents of an old North St. Louis neighborhood today began cleaning up the debris and repairing the damage left when a torrent of water from a burst 48-inch main swept down and flooded a 12-block area Wednesday.

The main burst on top of a hill near the Old Water Tower, a North St. Louis landmark, and a wall of water descended on the low-lying neighborhood below, an area of brick flats and a few stores.

At the flood's height it looked as if a river had been diverted into the neighborhood. Murky, ice-bloated water roared down the hillside, washed away parked cars and sent big paving bricks tumbling along like pebbles.

Many persons were stranded in second-floor homes and at least 20 were rescued from basement and first-floor apartments by firemen and coast guardsmen in boats.

Public Safety Director Joseph P. Sestric said the property damage would easily hit the half-million dollar mark.

Gas heat to 300 homes and businesses was cut off but service was being restored today.

Say Pair Took Over $9,000 Loot

CHICAGO (AP)—A retired warehouse owner and his wife told police they were robbed of more than $9,000 in personal belongings Wednesday night by an intruder who complained about the tardiness of his partner.

Paul A. Rensch, 72, and his wife, Wilma, 64, said a gunman forced his way into their suburban Skokie apartment and told them to sit down while he waited for his associate.

Rensch, who formerly owned the Rensch Fireproof Warehouse in Wilmette, said the gunman complained bitterly during a 15-minute wait for the second man, and vowed never to work with him again.

The pair took fur coats, rings, costume jewelry and watches leaving the couple trussed with neckties and silk stockings, Rensch related.

Other training dates include: 1st Automatic Weapons Battalion 184th Artillery, Chicago, at Camp Perry, Ohio July 1-15; 202nd Artillery Group, Chicago, at Fort Sheridan and on-site in the Chicago area, July 8-22, and 109th Signal Co., Chicago, at Camp McCoy, July 8-22.

Diversification The Answer?

Strikes Confident Note On Detroit Future

Editor's Note: Detroit is one of the hardest hit industrial areas in the nation. Predominantly automotive, responsible authorities see diversification as the big hope for improved conditions. Nate Polowetzky, assistant general editor of The Associated Press, who is touring the depressed labor areas of the nation, tells of Detroit's fears and hopes in this article, first of a series of two.

By NATE POLOWETZKY
DETROIT (AP)—"I have never been, and am not now, of the feeling that this is a city doomed to die."

On that confident note, William B. Sloan, director-secretary of Detroit's Industrial and Commercial Development Committee, sums up his faith in the future of the great auto capital.

His job, basically, is to find ways of attracting new industries to Detroit and create new jobs in an area staggering under the burden of crushing unemployment and the prospect of more to come.

It is difficult to be confident. For tens of thousands of men and women the future is without hope. For them the permanent "lay-off" slip has already come and ahead is only hardship and suffering.

Day by day the rolls of unemployed grow and welfare lists increase as cars go unsold and auto firms lay off help in production shutdowns.

Already 165,500 persons are listed as unemployed in the Detroit area according to the latest count—which was outmoded the moment it was compiled. Since then new layoffs—some of which will be permanent—have been announced.

An estimated 50,000 persons are already chronically unemployed—a conservative figure—probably never to see the inside of an auto plant again, permanent welfare cases.

"Many of these are unskilled, poorly educated people, who came or were brought here from the poorer sections of the South to work in the auto plants during the big boom seven or eight years ago," says one employment official.

"When their jobs were eliminated—for a variety of reasons—they were left behind. Many are now too poor to leave or have strong family ties keeping them here. Many feel 'why should we go back to picking cotton? Many live on relief or the faint hope that sometime they may get their old jobs back—a faint, faint, almost nonexistent hope."

Automation, consolidation of auto firms; the relocation of new and more modern plants outside Detroit and Michigan, closer to new and growing markets and new sources of new materials; changes in defense contracts, away from vehicles to missiles, have been some factors, among many, that has caused permanent employment in the auto industry and will cause more in the future here.

It is feared that even if times get better, as expected, there will not be enough re-employment to make an appreciable dent in the lists of the unemployed in Detroit.

And as the industry changes, others tied to it decline. Many foundries and stamping plants have shut down or reduced work forces. Mines supplying ore to steel plants servicing the industry have also been hurt.

Some 320,000 persons are now out of work in Michigan with the list growing daily.

The illness has spread to other businesses in Detroit.

Said an executive of a variety chain store, whose customers best reflect the worker-consumer: "Our business began to decline starting in May 1959 and is continuing to do so."

Said another spokesman for the same firm: "This decline in auto employment is reflected in our own job applications. Some years ago we were hiring people we knew we shouldn't have hired but had to because we couldn't get help. Now we are swamped with applications for all kinds of jobs from the lowest sales clerk to managers."

The solution to Detroit's future? Like so many other cities in the United States tied to a single, dominant industry, Detroit's planners are seeking diversification.

"We want to build an umbrella over the automotive industry," says Sloan, whose committee is only one of several working on the problem.

"We'd rather have 1,000 firms employing 100 persons each in our diversification than one firm employing 100,000."

But he added rapidly: "If we got an industry employing 100,000 we wouldn't turn them down."

Already under way or in the planning stage are dozens of re-development programs to clear blighted areas and to give a new and more attractive look to the city.

But Detroit is cramped by a lack of good industrial sites. Sloan is confident new industries will come into the city to rescue Detroit.

But even so, the average unemployed auto worker, especially the older one, sees little hope for himself, even in good times.

Hoagland Speaks At Legion Auxiliary Meeting

The regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary Unit No. 279 was held at the Legion Home on Wednesday evening at 7:30 with the president, Shirley Owdom presiding. Colors were posted by sergeant at arms Louise Witham and assistant sergeant at arms Pauline Wilmer. Following the opening prayer, the secretary read the minutes of the previous meeting and also give the treasurer's report. Both were accepted as presented.

Reports were given by membership chairman Irene Hill and courtesy chairman Mabel Lewis. Several communications were read by the secretary including an invitation to the 33rd Annual Patriotic Conference to be held in Chicago during March at which time the national president will speak. The pilgrimage to Lincoln's Tomb will be held by the Department of Illinois on Sunday, Feb. 12th in Springfield.

Volunteer workers were asked to help with Heart Fund Sunday which will be on Feb. 26th between the hours of 2 and 4. A thank you letter was read for the volunteer service workers from the auxiliary. A discussion was then held concerning the annual chili supper to be held Monday evening, Feb. 13th at the Legion Home. Members are asked to volunteer their services for that evening and tickets are available from all members of the committee.

The president thanked all the volunteers from the auxiliary, around 15 in number, who helped with the Mother's March of Dimes Tuesday, Jan. 31st, and also those who helped serve cookies and coffee.

It was announced that several members attended the recent 3rd Division Meeting held in Havana, Ill. Those attending were Shirley Owdom, Frances Davis, Trilby Skinner and Louise Slagle.

Mrs. Irene Vernor, Americanism chairman, then introduced Ernest Hoagland to the assembled group and he spoke on the electoral college and his experience as a member of this group from Illinois in 1956. He gave a very interesting report on his duties as an elector and described the events of the day the electoral college met in Springfield. He also gave the history of this college. Following his talk members asked him questions. The meeting was then adjourned with the retiring of the colors.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Vernor assisted by Mrs. Frances Davis. The next meeting will be held on Wednesday evening, March 1 at 7:30. A work night will be held on Thursday night, Feb. 9 to clean the kitchen and volunteer workers are asked to report at the home by 7:00 p.m.

Farm Experts Offer Plan To Cut Grain Surpluses
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's farm experts Wednesday unveiled a tentative plan to persuade farmers to cut down on the production of surplus corn and other livestock feed grains.
As explained to newsmen by Chairman Allen J. Ellender, D-La., after a closed-door briefing of the Senate Agriculture Committee, the plan would cost the government about $500 million the first year. Without it, he estimated, the surplus production would cost the taxpayer $1.1 billion.
The plan, aimed at reducing a surplus expected to exceed two billion bushels this year, would involve payments and price supports at the rate of $1.30 a bushel for corn, compared with present corn price supports of $1.06 a bushel.
The term "telephone" comes from the Greek "tele" for "far" and "phone" for "sound," according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Moravian Pastor Dies
GOSHEN, Conn. (AP) — The Rev. Archibald I. Mann, 72, retired Moravian minister who twice served as interim pastor at Christ Church Congregational in Goshen, died Tuesday of a heart attack. He was a former president, treasurer and corresponding secretary of the Board of Domestic Missions of the Reformed Churches in America. He was born in Sturgeon Bay, Wis.

Moore Willing To Fight Johnson For Right Price
By BUZ MILLER
PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Venerable Archie Moore said Wednesday he's willing to fight Harold Johnson, the new world light heavyweight champion — for "a right price."
"My price is $200,000," said Moore. "And anytime Johnson puts up the money, he's got himself a match."
Johnson stopped Jesse Bowdry of St. Louis in the ninth round at Miami Beach, Fla., Tuesday night to win the National Boxing Association crown that Archie claimed so long.
Moore knocked out Johnson in the 14th round in the Philadelphia's only other shot at the title. But the NBA whisked the crown from Moore because he failed to stage his ninth defense of the title within a stipulated time.

Thousands Riot In Naples, Italy; 48 Are Injured
NAPLES, Italy (AP) — Thousands of infuriated Neapolitans wrecked stores and set fire to buses, streetcars and a rail station in downtown Naples Wednesday night after a sudden strike left them without transportation home.
Italian army units and armored cars helped police restore order in a four-hour battle that left 48 injured.
The rioting was the worst here in years. More than 100 rioters were arrested.
A big part of the downtown area of this sea-coast city of more than a million looked like a battlefield.
Eleven trolley buses, streetcars and buses were left smoldering skeletons. The main suburban rail station was a burned-out shell.
A police truck was set ablaze. Dozens of stores and bars were severely damaged, their windows broken and neon signs demolished.
Officials estimated total damage in the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Johnson Takes Step Against 'Moonlighting'
CHICAGO (AP) — State Labor Director Robert W. Johnson Wednesday took the first step in his campaign against "moonlighting."
Johnson met with state union officials and asked them to make the holding of two full time jobs by members a cause for discharge from one of them.
He also wrote to 25 major Illinois industrialists asking them to cooperate in the anti-moonlighting campaign.
The letters urged the industrialists to ask all employees and all applicants for jobs, whether they have a second job.
Mayor Richard J. Daley promised Johnson full cooperation in the anti-moonlighting drive. He said he has ordered an investigation among city employees, especially in the police, fire and public works departments.

Wisconsin Firm Considers Moving Into Illinois
BELOIT, Wis. (AP) — The president of the Yates-American Machine Co., said Wednesday his firm is considering moving out of Wisconsin and into neighboring Illinois because of high taxes and this state's "attitude toward industry."
"We think Illinois is more aggressive and helpful toward industry than Wisconsin," said J. J. Gallagher, Yates-American president, "and we have taken this into consideration."
The final decision on relocation will be made by directors and stockholders, Gallagher said. Meanwhile, the Beloit company has filed a petition requesting a change of zoning on a 50-acre tract about three miles south of the Wisconsin-Illinois state line. The petition, filed with the Winnebago County Illinois zoning board asks that the land located at the northeast corner of Interstate Expressway 90 and the Rockton Road be changed from agricultural to industrial.
A hearing on the petition is scheduled in the Roscoe town hall Feb. 28.

Interpreting The News
By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst
President Kennedy is having the first but by no means the last trouble with his strong-minded Cabinet members and top advisers who have been accustomed to speaking for themselves and continuing to do so.
This is a problem in every administration. In a group such as Kennedy's official family, composed of so many people who have acquired the habits of leadership, it's a price you pay for talent.
Adlai Stevenson got ahead of the President with some pious hopes about relations with Russia's Khrushchev and Red China expressed at the United Nations, which caused no great stir.
But after Kennedy's campaign and State of the Union expressions of belief that the Soviet Union is ahead and moving faster than the United States in the missile race, the foul up over what's in a Pentagon study of the subject created a furor.
At a briefing, subsequently disclosed to have been by Secretary of Defense McNamara, reporters got the unanimous impression that a study team would report no missile gap.
Now Kennedy and McNamara say the report has not progressed to the point where conclusions can be drawn. There is disturbance in Congress, and where it will all wind up remains to be seen.
In the meantime, the impression has got out that either the President or the Pentagon is approaching the study with an eye to proving preconceptions. This may not be true. But it leaves the public up in the air. It makes more difficult the mobilization which Kennedy seeks in his effort for a unified front against both the economic and military problems which face the nation.
Background briefings to give reporters an idea of official thought, with the information to be used on the reporter's own responsibility, are commonplace in Washington. They play a valuable part in keeping the country informed of policies and tendencies without committing officials and stripping them of flexibility.
Now and then, under these circumstances, an official will say something regarding a particular matter which cuts across broader policy or seems to contradict someone at a higher level. Then there's confusion, and frequently trouble.
Some officials react by shying away from the newsmen—trying to avoid trouble at any cost.
Kennedy, well aware of the unofficial but highly essential role of the press in the American political system, said at his news conference Wednesday he didn't want this to happen.
All presidents have sought to prevent these crossups through administrative coordination, but mostly they've just had to grin and bear it. And Kennedy seems likely to need his full share of grins.

The Great Water Highway ---

MISSING LINK—Alabama, Mississippi and Tennessee are co-operating on a waterway project which would link the southeastern rivers, the Gulf coast and the Port of Mobile with the vast river systems of mid-America. The connecting link, see map, would provide a 9-foot channel 170 feet wide from the Tennessee River, 253 miles to the confluence of the Tombigbee and Warrior Rivers. Cost is estimated at 227 million dollars. Against this figure proponents balance these benefits: Better flood control, water conservation, more water for industry, waterway distances shortened by 700 miles between Tennessee River cities and the Gulf of Mexico. A series of locks will lift or lower traffic in the proposed channel 341 feet, the difference between water levels at its northern end, Pickwick Dam on the Tennessee, photo at right, to its southern terminus, Demopolis Lock on the Tombigbee.

Yankees Of Latin America—

Reds Have Trouble With Booming Sao Paulo

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst
SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP)—Communists and anti-Yankee followers of Fidel Castro have big trouble in Sao Paulo, because the Paulistas are the Yankees of Latin America.

Sao Paulo, full of bounce, is in the midst of a boom that can be braked only by problems of the federal Brazilian government.

Unless Brazil's runaway inflation interferes, Sao Paulo will be the beacon city of all Latin America, an example to all the rest of what people can do for themselves without depending upon U.S. taxpayers.

Six years ago, when Janio Quadros, Brazil's new president, took over as governor of Sao Paulo State, its capital was near bankruptcy. Quadros gave it an intelligent administration, although he lacked sufficient control of the city itself to mend old habits of graft and corruption.

Today this city of skyscrapers and buzzing energy claims a population equal to Chicago's and it is growing rapidly. Soon it is likely to outstrip Buenos Aires and become the largest city in Latin America.

There are about 5,000 American citizens living in Sao Paulo State, and Americans and American companies have invested a billion dollars here. That is two-thirds of the total U.S. investment in all Brazil. The Americans here constitute one of the largest overseas U.S. communities in the world.

Sao Paulo State is the financial center of Brazil. Its banks make 40 per cent of the nation's industrial and commercial loans. It has Brazil's busiest port, Santos. It is the country's leading agricultural state. Its more than 26,000 industrial establishments employ a third of Brazil's industrial labor. It produces and consumes more electric power than any other Brazilian state.

Sao Paulo has less than 18 per cent of Brazil's population, but it contributes half the gross national product.

It's Turkey, Ham Or Lamb This Weekend

FOOD REVIEW
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
It's ham, lamb and turkey, ma'am, at your supermarket and neighborhood grocery this week-end.

Specials on ham are not especially cheap. Prices are 4 cents a pound higher than a year ago at one New York metropolitan area chain, but they're less than recent levels. Meat department experts at the chains like to have an occasional special for every variety just to keep the customers interested.

Lamb and turkey are generally less expensive. The former is down 2 to 6 cents a pound this week in some places, up 4 cents in others. Prices are unchanged to slightly lower than a year ago in the New York area, while turkeys are 6 to 10 cents a pound cheaper than in the same week of 1960.

Fork chops and frying chickens are somewhat cheaper in some areas this week, but butter and veal chops are higher. Eggs are off 1 to 2 cents a dozen.

Lettuce remains an outstanding buy among vegetables. Other best buys are beets, broccoli, cabbage, cauliflower, endive, escarole, green onions, peppers, eastern potatoes, radishes, rhubarb, spinach, tomatoes, turnips and rutabagas.

Good buys include parsley, celery, assorted greens, eggplant, onions, corn, peas, sweet potatoes, artichokes, western and Florida potatoes, brussels sprouts, mushrooms and green squash.

Outstanding buys among fruits are oranges, limes, grapefruit, tangerines, chestnuts and apples. Good buys are avocados, grapes, bananas, lemons, small western pears and pineapples.

Carrollton—Miss Wanda Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Smith of Carrollton and Charles Cain, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Cain of Fieldon were married Friday, February 3 at 7:30 p.m. in the Methodist church in Carrollton. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Robert Pitsch, pastor of the church.

Mrs. Thomas Camerer of Carrollton, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor and Glenn Cain of Fieldon, brother of the groom was the best man.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white length dress of white nylon with a bouffant skirt accented by ruffles. The bodice of the dress featured a jacket with long sleeves and a high collar. Her half veil was secured to a coronet of nylon mesh accented with seed pearls. She carried a white Bible on which rested a bouquet of blue carnations.

Mrs. Camerer was wearing a dress of light blue silk organza fashioned with a cummerbund and lace inserts were used in the bouffant skirt. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Camerer at 714 Maple street, Carrollton.

Mrs. Cain is a graduate of the class of 1960 of the Carrollton Community Unit High School. Cain attended the schools of Fieldon and Jerseyville and was discharged in August from the U.S. Navy where he had served three years. He is employed by the McDonnell Aircraft Corporation in St. Louis.

Mr. and Mrs. Cain are making their home at 406 Main street in Alton.

New York Stock Market

By ED MORSE

AP Business News Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market churned in extremely heavy trading early this afternoon. Prices were mixed.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was unchanged at 235.40 with industrials off .10, rails unchanged and utilities up .20.

Volume for the first two hours was 2.33 million shares compared with 1.84 million Wednesday.

Speculative interest ran high in many of the lower-priced issues as it has for the past couple of sessions but activity was strong in all sections of the list. A fever for low-priced stocks sometimes marks the "blowoff" of a sustained market advance but it was too early to tell whether this was actually the case.

Most groups were thoroughly mixed. The general trend was a bit to the upside but sharp losses by electrical equipment manufacturers dragged down the popular averages.

The threat of millions of dollars worth of damage suits because of the antitrust convictions brought an army of sellers to General Electric and Westinghouse Electric. Westinghouse lost well over 2 points and GE about 4.

A generally higher trend prevailed among oils, chemicals, airlines, utilities, and nonferrous metals. Steels and rubbers were off. Motors, aircrafts, tobaccos, drugs, and rails were mixed.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 1.18 at 647.67. Corporate and U.S. government bonds were slightly higher in slow trading.

WILL SUPPORT TWO CHILDREN TO SAVE PARTNER FROM JAIL

CHICAGO (AP) — To save his business partner from jail, a Yugoslavian immigrant agreed today to support the partner's two children and pay up $750 in support arrears.

The novel support agreement, approved by Superior Court Judge Elmer Holmgren, placed George Manojlovich, 29, who has two young children of his own, in this perilous position:

If he fails to keep up $25 a week payments for his partner's children, he would be liable to a contempt citation and possibly a jail sentence.

Manojlovich and Stevan S. Skorich, 62, are partners in book store that specializes in anti-communist literature.

Skorich and his wife, Ann, 50, were divorced in 1956. They have two daughters, Barbara, 15, and Elizabeth, 16. The children live with their mother.

Skorich was arrested Tuesday for being $750 in arrears on support payments for the children. He spent Tuesday night in jail after Judge Holmgren indicated he would send him to a cell until he paid the $750.

NAB MAN AFTER $1,256 ROBBERY WITH TOY PISTOL

CHICAGO (AP)—A Milwaukee man who police say robbed a loan office of $1,256 using a toy pistol was seized by police Wednesday after a chase through the Loop district.

Police said the man, Bruce T. Lathan, 46, of 2916 N. Fifth St., Milwaukee, fled from the Household Finance Corp. office when a woman employee shouted that the gun—which still had a 37-cent price tag on the handle—was a toy.

Lathan had ordered 19 employees and six customers to lie on the floor as he took money from cash drawers, police said. A list of nine loan offices, including the victimized office, was found in Lathan's pocket, police said.

Lathan, a Negro, was held without charge.

BEANS SET NEW HIGH FOR SEASON

CHICAGO (AP) — Soybean futures established new highs for the season again today, with gains ranging to well over three cents a bushel on the Board of Trade.

However, dealings were relatively light after the advance which leveled off as demand dried up. No significant selling pressure had developed though by profit takers.

An early setback in corn brought out a good volume of short covering and prices more than recovered all the losses. Wheat and rye continued slightly weak, however, in slack trade.

At noon, soybeans were 1-3/4 cents a bushel higher, March $2.73 3/4; wheat 1/4 higher to 1-1/4 higher, March $1.16 1/4; oats 1/4 higher, March 66 cents; rye 1/4 lower to 1-1/4 higher, March $1.21 1/4.

Soybeans came under fairly heavy selling in the final three or four minutes and closed 1/4 cent a bushel lower to 1/4 higher, March $2.69 1/2-70; wheat 3/4 higher to 1 cent lower, March $2.11; corn 1/4 to 1 1/2 higher, March $1.16 1/4; oats 1/4 to 1/2 lower, March 65 1/2-54; rye 1/4 to 1/2 lower, March $1.21.

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP) — No progress was reported Wednesday night after a meeting between printers union representatives and management of the struck Southern Illinois newspaper.

Hopes Dim For Agreement With USSR On Laos

One alternative to be explored with other friendly governments in the next few days, it is understood, is creation of a committee of strictly neutral powers with neither Communist nor Allied government represented. Such a move probably would command considerable support in world public opinion whatever Moscow might think about it.

The cold war conflicts over Laos and the Congo and key issues in the negotiations now starting here. They apparently take precedence in administration thinking over the possibility of an early meeting between Kennedy and Khrushchev. However, that possibility and Thompson's first hand report on Khrushchev's interest in such a meeting were certain to be discussed.

Kennedy spent more than two hours Wednesday in a White House meeting with Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and other top advisers. The subject was the crisis in Laos. Any decisions on new moves are expected to be talked over with other interested governments before any action is taken.

The administration plan is understood to call for creation of a completely neutral international watchdog committee which would have the task of trying to promote an end to the civil conflict in the Southeast Asian kingdom, neutralize it and stop the flow of arms from the outside, particularly from the Communist bloc.

At the same time it is understood that Kennedy and Rusk are deeply worried about a byproduct of the Laotian crisis—the disaffection of Asian members of the Southeast Asian Treaty Organization with what they consider the lack of a stronger U. S. policy in combating pro-Communist forces in Laos.

Thailand and the Philippines, both important U. S. allies in SEATO, are reported to have registered strong complaints against the U. S. failure, as they see it, to use SEATO in Laos.

One reason the United States has been unwilling is said to be British and French reluctance to invoke the defense clauses of the SEAO alliance.

Britain particularly has favored pacification measures rather than any move which might intensify the military conflict. To date Russia has held the key to pacification.

Three weeks ago Britain proposed to Russia on behalf of the Western powers a plan to reestablish in Laos an international control commission with a peace-making assignment. The delay in a formal Soviet reply has led authorities here to conclude the Russians do not like the control commission plan.

South Digs Out Of Record Snow

of the Jefferson-Berkeley-Morgan County area was isolated prior to the most recent storm. They said it will be several days before secondary routes are opened to traffic.

Depths up to 18 inches fell across a stretch up the Shenandoah Valley and into northern Virginia, adding a fresh layer to last week's storm. Combined depths in some places measured 29 inches, and winds pushed drifts of four and five feet across roads.

Western Maryland had its heaviest snowfall of the season. Cumberland, a city of 45,000 has had 60 inches of snow since Dec. 11.

The official weather observer there, Robert R. Golden, said it was "the worst winter I remember."

A state of emergency was declared at Hagerstown, Md., where 15 inches fell and the roofs on two industrial storage buildings collapsed.

West Virginia National Guardsmen were called out to help dig the Preston County town of Terra Alta out of the snow. Another 12 inches of snow brought the accumulation to two feet along the West Virginia-Maryland - Pennsylvania border.

North Carolina escaped the brunt of the storm except across the Northern Piedmont.

Depths in North Carolina ranged from 4 1/2 inch to 2 1/2 inches in the Black Mountain-Ridgecrest area to 6 inches in the West Jefferson area.

Tax Hike To Pay For Plan

States—go to the hospital more often and stay longer than their younger neighbors," he added. "Their physical activity is limited by six times as much disability as the rest of the population. Their annual medical bill is twice that of persons under 65—but their annual income is only half as high."

The health insurance program Kennedy proposed for the aged—similar in principle to the one he tried unsuccessfully to put through Congress last year as a member of the Senate—would apply to 13.7 million over 65 who are under the Social Security program, and to about 500,000 under the Railroad Retirement pension program, administration officials said.

They said further the proposed increase in Social Security taxes, including bigger levies under the railroad program, would pay out about $1.1 billion in health insurance benefits in 1963, the first full year of operation.

As for the other health measures Kennedy recommended, the officials stressed that no firm cost estimates are yet available. But they calculate at this time that these programs will require about $56 million in new appropriations for the fiscal year starting July 1, and that about $21 million of this actually would be spent in those 12 months.

For the next fiscal year, beginning July 1, 1962, appropriations are figured at about $177 million and actual spending at about $55 million.

Some of the programs Kennedy advocated are on a 10-year basis, and the administration estimates the cost would continue to mount through the first four years, and then perhaps level off.

Kennedy did not go into any detail regarding price tags in his message. He has promised, however, that he will suggest ways of raising additional revenues in the case of a new spending program which—of and by themselves—would knock out of balance the budget he inherited from the Eisenhower regime for the fiscal year commencing July 1.

Discussing health insurance for the aged, Kennedy told Congress: "This program would be financed by an increase in the Social Security contributions of one-quarter of one per cent each on employers and employees, and by an increase in the maximum earnings base from $4,800 a year to $5,000 which would amply cover the cost of all insurance benefits provided. The system would be self-supporting and would not place any burden on the general revenues."

This means that — apart from tax increases already scheduled over the next several years in the existing Social Security program—the tax would go from the current 3 per cent to 3 1/4 per cent. This would be paid by both workers and employers on the first $5,000 of wages, instead of the first $4,800 as at present.

Payment of health insurance benefits would start July 1, 1962. So it also means that in the case of workers earning at least $5,000 their tax increase for 1962 would be $8. In 1963 the increase would total $18.50. The hike would be smaller in 1962 because for that year the tax would continue at 3 per cent, the present rate, but would be on the first $5,000 of wages. The next year the tax rate would jump to 3 1/4 per cent.

The additional Social Security cost would be less in the case of workers earning less than $5,000 a year.

Under the Kennedy program the insured aged would be eligible for:

When patients in a hospital, services up to 90 days in a single spell of illness, for all costs in excess of $10 a day for the first nine days, with a minimum of $20. Full costs would be paid for the remaining 81 days.

Skilled nursing home services up to 180 days immediately after discharge from a hospital. This would be increased to a maximum of 240 days if the insured passed up hospital care altogether, or to something between 180 and 240 days if hospitalized for less than 90 days.

Hospital clinic diagnostic services for all costs in excess of $20 for hospital out-patients, those who simply visit a clinic and return home.

Community visiting nurse services for a so far unspecified period.

Apart from the health insurance program, Kennedy recommended:

Nursing home construction grants—doubling of the present authorization of $10 million annually in matching grants, shared by the federal government on the one hand and local governments or private institutions on the other hand.

Grants to improve nursing-home and home-nursing services — he said "an initial appropriation will lay the groundwork for more efficient and better balanced care for the aged and chronically ill."

He also called for creation of a new bureau of community health in the public health service.

Hospital research and development—Congress would determine each year the amount necessary, and the surgeon general would be authorized to make project grants.

Increasing health personnel—A program of federal scholarships for talented medical and dental students in need of financial as-stance. Federal funds averaging $1,500 each a year for one-fourth of students newly entering a school. These would be four-year scholarships with the amount of aid geared in each case to the student's need. None would be eligible for more than $2,000 a year.

But in addition the schools participating would receive a cost-of-education grant of $1,000 for each federal scholarship to cover expense not met by tuition and fees.

Improving the health of children and youth—Creation of a new national institute of child health and human development, including a center for research in child health.

The President also called for an unspecified increase in appropriations for the existing programs in maternal and child health, crippled children and child welfare.

Vocational rehabilitation — Kennedy said he will specify later an increase in funds he wants for rapid expansion of aid for disabled Americans to speed their return to active and useful lives.

Medical research—Provision of $50 million annually for three years under the program of matching grants for construction of research facilities. The Eisenhower administration requested $30 million for the next fiscal year.

Kennedy also asked for an increase—he didn't say how much—in the $540 million fund Eisenhower sought in the new fiscal year for medical research, and for removal of the current limitation on federal payment of indirect costs of medical research projects.

Dirksen Calls For Truth On Missiles

is writing McNamara asking if a press briefing was held and whether the secretary wants to say that reporters were wrong in quoting a Pentagon spokesman as saying there was no missile gap.

"When you deal with missiles as President Kennedy did and make them the burden of your campaign and the center of the security section of your platform, you excite the apprehensions of the people," Dirksen said.

He added: "If President Eisenhower was right in saying there is no missile gap, then the Democrats don't owe him an apology, but they owe one to the American people."

Bridges, who heads the Senate, Republican Policy Committee, said in a statement that during the election campaign Kennedy had contended there was a growing gap. Bridges noted that a Pentagon spokesman—who Kennedy conceded was McNamara—had said Monday there was no such gap.

Kennedy indicated that even before the hearings begin he may have a report from McNamara on the capacity of American strategic weapons. He said studies may be completed by Feb. 20.

Presumably the President would be ready to say, then, on the basis of the report, whether he believes any missile gap exists or is threatened.

Consider Plan To Aid Jobless

per cent of workers are covered by the act are unemployed, the eligibility period is increased for periods ranging from 5 to 13 weeks.

Samuel Bernstein, assistant director of the State Department of Labor, said the present percentage of unemployed in Illinois is 7.3, and benefits have totaled more than $5 a week.

Johnston said the trust fund of monies available for compensation payments is ample to provide for higher disbursements. The governor has listed liberalized unemployment compensation as an anti-recession measure.

State Treasurer Joseph Lohman said the compensation reserve balance stood at $350,285,772 Dec. 31, 1960.

However, Lohman said, the fund dropped $20 million in January, to a balance of $330,285,772 as the current month started. The latest batch of compensation checks, mailed Tuesday, totaled about $4,600,000, Lohman said.

New areas added to the substantial unemployment category, besides those already mentioned, include Peoria, Ill., Akron, Ohio, Allentown, Bethlehem, Easton, Pa., Asheville, N.C., Corpus Christi, Tex., Flint, Mich., Grand Rapids, Mich., Knoxville, Tenn., Louisville, Ky., Mobile, Ala., New Brunswick, Perth Amboy, N.J., Portland, Ore., Savannah, Ga., Tacoma, Wash., Toledo, Ohio, Worcester, Mass., and York, Pa.

The number of major areas now reported with substantial unemployment is 78, largest total reported since the low point of the 1958 recession when 89 major areas were so classified.

In addition to the 25 major areas added to the substantial unemployment list 23 smaller labor market areas were added to a separate critical list for smaller communities.

Goldberg plans to meet with state officials, businessmen, labor leaders and community leaders, and interview unemployed workers and their families on his tour. Seymour Wolfbein, Labor Department manpower chief, held a news conference on the nationwide labor market statistics for January. Most of these figures, including the nationwide idle count of 5,385,000 for that month, had been disclosed by President Kennedy in his Feb. 2 economic message to Congress.

In giving reporters details of the picture, Wolfbein said the unemployment situation "has never been worse since early World War II—the figures speak for themselves."

The data showed that employment was 64,432,000 in January, a record high for any January since the beginning of World War II. However, the figures reflected higher employment in trade, finance, and federal and local governments. Factory employment was down about 900,000 from a year earlier.

Wolfbein said that if only seasonal factors occur and there is no basic improvement in the economy in the next few months unemployment will remain at about 5 million right on into the summer.

He added as much as 18 cups of cereal to 2 cups of dried chicken when you are making a salad.

The original movement to form such a rescue unit was started several months ago but the idea has since spread and increased in tempo. The actual emergency and rescue unit may have its birth sooner than expected when preliminary plans are executed.

Among various items of equipment compiled by interested persons are such things as a suitable truck and primary emergency tools. Plans were unveiled Wednesday night by a local firm to donate a suitable truck for use as an emergency vehicle; a local mechanic indicated he would provide any mechanical repairs necessary; one women's organization asked to donate some piece of equipment valued at approximately $250; and another individual sent his check for $100 to be used in any method desired.

"This kind of support in the early stages is both appreciated and needed to get the project moving," Chairman Bill Buchanan said Wednesday. "Every man on the committee is busy investigating all types of suitable equipment needed in such a unit. Due to space limitations and mobility requirements, a great deal of investigation is necessary but when the preliminary work is completed we will know just how much such a unit will cost and how to approach our immediate problem."

Immediate Service
The rescue unit is being formed with the idea that it will be available on a moment's notice and be manned by firemen on duty. If a specialist is needed in any emergency, plans are underway to recruit volunteers who would be willing to assist firemen. Volunteers will also be used in the event an emergency call entails a lengthy stay at the site.

The unit will be available for calls anywhere in the Jacksonville area if there is a chance that a life could be saved. In the immediate area, volunteers will be pressed into service to assist officials in the event of storms or other emergencies.

All firemen scheduled for service on the unit plus all volunteers will undergo specialized training in the use and purpose of all equipment.

Members of the citizens' committee plan to visit the Carrollton rescue squad to inspect the organizational aspects and equipment inventory for ideas. Carrollton provides similar service throughout Greene county and has moved into the front ranks as one of the finest of its type in central Illinois.

Blame National Frat For Ousting Of Jewish Youth

LAKE FOREST, Ill. (AP)—The national council of Phi Delta Theta college fraternity has been blamed by Lake Forest College authorities for the deploring of a Jewish freshman from Chicago.

Howard Hoogesteger, dean of students, Wednesday expressed concern over the ouster of Donald C. Schiller, at the start of this year.

Hoogesteger said that Schiller, pledged in November, was depledged "because of his religious background (Jewish)."

"The local chapter, interested in the student, pledged him in the hope that the matter would be approved by the national council, but this was not allowed," the dean said. No action against the fraternity is contemplated at this time, he said.

Hoogesteger said that none of the five fraternities represented at the Presbyterian-affiliated school has discriminatory clauses in its by-laws. But, he added:

"The national organizations can circumvent this by forcing locals to gain approval of each pledge by the national."

Schiller is still living in the chapter house on the North Shore.

U. S. Back-Door Spending Under Fire By Solons

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairmen of two powerful House committees have teamed up in a drive to curb federal back-door spending estimated to run into billions of dollars annually.

Back-door spending is the congressional term applied to Treasury withdrawals under authority of laws which do not make direct appropriations. Instead, they permit expenditures through contract authorizations, public debt transactions and other means. It is used largely in connection with housing, highway and subsidy programs.

In the second session of the 85th Congress, back-door spending obligated $4,164,000,000 of federal funds for which no direct appropriations were made.

Heading the movement to curb the practice are Reps. Howard W. Smith, D-Va., chairman of the Rules Committee, and Clarence Cannon, D-Mo., chairman of the Appropriations Committee. Each has introduced a resolution designed to cope with the practice, and more than 100 House members have signed a request for action.

Smith's plan would permit objection of a single congressman to block House consideration of any bill carrying appropriations or authorizing future money withdrawal from the Treasury unless the bill originated in the Appropriations Committee.

Schiller is still living in the chapter house on the North Shore.

Chapin Becomes Railway Junction Due To Icy River

CHAPIN—Chapin was again an important railway junction point Monday when thirty-five cars were transferred from the Burlington Railroad to the Wabash, Jan. 30 for further shipment.

Thirty-two cars contained fine coal from St. David, Ill., being shipped to the Illinois Power Plant in Meredosa. The plant had switched its coal transportation from the railroads to the barge lines plying the Illinois River, but ice in the river prevented the barges from bringing it in, so they again had to depend upon the railroad to bring it in order to keep the plant in operation.

Two of the other cars transferred contained live stock feed being sent to Barry and New Berlin and the thirty-fifth car contained soybeans which had been loaded by the Chapin Farmers' Elevator which were shipped to Decatur, Ill.

This was repeated again as far as the coal was concerned last Monday with 68 loaded cars and 34 empties.

Walter Leake, Gun Collector, At Lions Meet

Walter Leake, a Jacksonville gun collector who has one of the largest private gun collections in the country, told members of the Jacksonville Lions Club about the history of number of guns dating back to Civil War days at the club meeting Wednesday evening at the Dunlap hotel. He displayed 10 guns from his collection of over 800, which were used in the Civil War.

Leake said that Samuel Colt was one of the largest manufacturers of large and small arms during the pre-Civil War period. When the war started a number of his employees whose sympathies were with the Confederacy quit their jobs and went south to start their own enterprise. This resulted in a number of duplications of many guns used by the North since Colt was one of the major government contractors at that time. Approximately 2,000 replicas of the Colt 36 were manufactured for Confederate soldiers. Other major gun manufacturers in the 1800's were Remington, Smith-Wesson and Manhattan.

A Derringer, that is a duplicate of the gun used by John Wilkes Booth to assassinate President Lincoln, was also displayed by Leake. He told of a gun factory at Lynville prior to the Civil War. The owner, a Confederate sympathizer, moved to Missouri at the start of the war.

The money printed by southern states which is now a highly prized souvenir of the period, prompted discussion as various denominations of Confederate currency were displayed by Leake at the Wednesday evening meeting.

BOY LIKES TRAINS; OFFERS TO HELP PAY FOR WRECK

CHICAGO (AP)—A 12-year-old Mississippi lad has a fondness for railroads that inspired him to offer to help pay for a train wreck that claimed six lives.

Edward Wood of rural Lexington, Miss., sent $1 and a letter to the Illinois Central Railroad. His letter said:

"I am sorry to hear of the train wreck at McComb and the one at Yazoo."

"If you will call Lexington 558R-4 if you have a wreck on the branch line between Durant and Gwin—or a little way out of Durant north or south of Gwin—I know a few signals with lanterns, and tell the railroad men about this, so they will know, and so don't forget."

"I know the company might not let you do it, but if you can, I enclose a dollar. It's not much, but I hope you can take it to help pay for the new City of New Orleans."

Edward referred to the collision of the streamliner City of New Orleans and a gasoline truck. Six persons were killed.

SPUNKY QUADRUPLE AMPUTEE FLASHES SMILE FOR CAMERAS

CHICAGO (AP)—The loss of his limbs didn't prevent Jimmy Clark, a spunky 13-year-old quadruple amputee, from leaving the hospital Wednesday under his own power.

Jimmy lost his arms and legs last March 25, when he was struck by a railroad engine.

Hardin Honors Four For 25 Years Fire Fighting

HARDIN — At a dinner marking 25 years of firefighting, four men of the Hardin Fire District were honored for 25 consecutive years of service. The dinner was an event of Thursday night in the school cafeteria in Hardin, and was served by members of the Hardin F.H.A. chapter, under the direction of Mrs. Norman McNelly.

Henry Fiedler, Harrell Miller and Omar Rosa, volunteer firemen, and Paul R. Durr, who has served as attorney for the department since its beginning, were presented with gold pins by Fire Chief R. A. Behrens. Among the 57 guests present were firemen and their wives, and local residents who have given much assistance to the organization throughout the years. Among these last were Philip Aderton, who has served as treasurer for many years, and Mrs. Ruth Harmon and Mrs. Helen Schuman who have assisted with stenographic work.

After the dinner, Harrell Miller gave a graphic description of some of the humorous as well as the serious events which have taken place in the local fire fighting business. His remarks served as a history of the organization, which was originally started as a village unit. It became a fire district in 1950, at which time it incorporated the area surrounding Hardin. The three trustees of the district, who have served since 1950, are C. W. Squier, Albert Sievers and Harrell Miller.

W. J. Eckert, extension specialist in firemanship training from the University of Illinois, was the principal speaker. Chief Eckert conducted several courses in firefighting in Hardin last year. Following his talk, Eckert showed a 15 minute movie of a spectacular fire which took place in Kansas City about two years ago. The film, which was taken by a newspaper cameraman, proved to be such an excellent picture description of firefighting methods, that it is now being shown generally to firefighting groups.

Discussion at Thursday night's meeting centered around plans the fire district has for adding more emergency equipment and for enlarging the department.

Answer: The whiskey in the bottle on the right is insured for one million dollars. This whiskey, drawn from Calvert Reserve's "Standard of Excellence," is used for quality control and never sold.

The Calvert Reserve on the left, and every bottle you buy must match this one million dollar Standard of Excellence for superb flavor. "Good as Gold" quality like this—never varying—means combining at least 18 selected straight whiskies with rare grain neutral spirits. The reason: Nature alone is never precise. All straight whiskies vary as they age.

But thanks to Calvert's one million dollar Standard of Excellence, the taste and magnificent character of Calvert Reserve never vary. Always "Good as Gold"!

Beware The Shoals

Very often when political leaders decide the opposition party has "pre-empted" a certain part of the political spectrum they conclude that they must move somewhere else if they are to win the next election.

Years back this was the problem the Democrats faced in California and Oregon, where Republicans were winning top offices with moderate to progressive candidates. The Democrats felt compelled to inch toward the left to establish a distinct position.

Yet the effort was never really productive. When the Democrats finally regained some of the top spots, they managed it for the most part by putting up candidates who simply re-established themselves in those areas previously pre-empted by the Republicans.

The GOP on a national level now appears to believe that it is in somewhat the same dilemma. National chairman Thruston Morton is alleged to have said that because President Kennedy has taken over the center, the Republicans must be on the move. Most observers read into this a belief that the move, if it comes, will be toward the conservative side.

There always has been, of course, a considerable body of Republican professionals who felt that steady success lay in this direction anyway. Still, in presidential years they have generally been overruled in favor of middle of the road nominees.

The California-Oregon experience, which could be underscored by further examples in other places, perhaps contains a lesson for the Republicans at this juncture.

It would seem to be that most of the time most of the voters are in the broad-ranged political center. At any given moment they may wish to veer slightly to the left or right, but only in times of dire distress or war are they likely to roam far from the middle.

Substantial elements in the Republican party are constantly aware of this. It is hardly accident that, despite the strong push in the party toward greater conservatism, these elements have usually prevailed in presidential election time.

Possibly the time will come when the party will take the plunge and risk all on a more conservative tack. But GOP leaders can find plenty of history on both sides of the party line to suggest that this is a course fraught with political peril.

Pennies From Havana

Cuba is going to start minting plastic coins, according to reports from that country. Up to now, all Cuban coinage has been made at the U.S. mint in Washington, using the same metals and alloys as American coins.

Washington officials say the move is caused by Cuba's lack of dollars to buy coins and that it won't work. There just isn't a plastic suitable for coins as yet. The U.S. investigated and discarded the possibility of using plastic for pennies during a World War II copper shortage.

Day At Home Is Tough On Wilbur Peeble, Suffering From Cold

By HAL BOYLE

YOURVILLE, U.S.A. (AP)—

One morning recently Wilbur Peeble, average American husband, woke up with a cold. His wife, Trellis Mae, told him:

"I'm not going to let you go to the office. You just stay home in bed and rest."

"I have a lot of shopping to do in town, so you'll have the place to yourself all day. It'll be nice and quiet."

After fixing his breakfast, Trellis Mae left. Taking his morning paper, Wilbur sank back into bed. "Ah-h-h," he sighed gratefully.

Then the doorbell sounded. Wilbur grunted, got up, wrapped his dressing robe around him and padded to the door.

"You got any knives you want sharpened?" said a man.

"No," said Wilbur. Back he padded to bed.

Five minutes later the doorbell sounded again. It was the laundry man. Back went Wilbur to bed.

The doorbell sounded. It was the man from the dry cleaners. Wilbur crawled back to bed. Before he could pull the covers over him, the phone rang.

"The cookies you ordered from the Girl Scouts have arrived," said a small voice. "Shall we bring them over today?"

"No," said Wilbur. "Give them to the Brownies, give them to the elves. I don't care what you do with them."

Back he stomped to bed. The phone rang. It was a lady with a message for Trellis Mae. It was a long message. It took Wilbur half an hour to write it down.

The long trip from the bedroom to the front door was wearing him out. He took his covers and moved to the living room sofa.

The doorbell sounded. It was a woman in the apartment building collecting for a charity. The phone rang. It was a little boy asking, "Can I talk to Mabel?"

"Wrong number," growled Wilbur. The little boy with the wrong number called back four more times in search of Mabel.

The doorbell sounded. It was another lady collecting for another charity. Before Wilbur could reply to her the phone rang.

"Have you had your insurance policies checked lately?" demanded a deep male voice.

So the day went. If it wasn't the doorbell sounding, it was the phone ringing—or both ringing at once.

When Trellis Mae entered at nightfall, she found Wilbur, hollered, sitting in a chair midway between the door and the telephone, his glance shifting from one to the other like a trapped animal.

He looked so wild she called the doctor who, after checking Wilbur, told him:

"You're suffering from acute physical exhaustion from overwork. Better stay home a few days and take it easy."

"Stay home!" screamed Wilbur. "I could take it easier in a railroad terminal. The first thing in the morning I'm going back to my office, where I know I can get some rest."

Now, whenever a husband wonders aloud how wives get so tired in a house full of labor-saving gadgets, Wilbur knows.

The housework is easy. It's running from the doorbell to the telephone that really wears them down.

New Question: Are Agencies Responsible for Progress?

By PETER EDSON

Written For NEA

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—James M. Landis, special assistant to President Kennedy on government regulatory agencies, has hit 'em again, from another angle. He now accuses these commissions of partial responsibility for the failure of the industries they regulate to contribute their share of the nation's growth.

At the end of December, Landis gave Kennedy a report recommending sweeping changes in the organization and procedure of agencies like Federal Communications, Power, Trade, Interstate Commerce, Securities and Exchange Commissions, Civil Aeronautics Board and Food and Drug Administration.

Harvard law professor Landis has served as a member of FTC and SEC and has been chairman of CAB, so he knows his way around their legal mazes. But his recommendations stirred up the animals in all these agencies.

In a talk before the Federal Bar Assn. in Washington to answer some of his critics, Landis denies that he wants to become czar over these agencies.

But he gives them another round of criticism for inadequate personnel, lack of courage and imagination, delays in handling cases brought before them and failure in cases involving overlapping jurisdiction of two agencies working in the same field.

This latter criticism has drawn strenuous objection from Federal Trade Commissioner William C. Kern, a Democrat. He opposes the Landis recommendation that FTC antitrust law enforcement powers be turned over to the Department of Justice.

Landis notes some improvements already. ICC has upgraded its hearing examiners, SEC commissioners have begun to write some of their own opinions instead of letting the professional staff do them all.

But the White House adviser still maintains that a complete reorganization of government machinery in this field should be made by presidential and congressional action.

Landis Expresses Some Surprise that his criticisms—meant to be constructive—raised so much clamor. He explains it as a public realization of the power these agencies hold over business and recognition of the fact that greater development of industries under regulation is necessary to promote a more rapid growth rate in the national economy.

Though an increase in gross national product should be accompanied by increased demand for transportation, Landis points out that railroad ton-mileage has declined.

In the passenger field conditions are even worse, with commuter services crippled.

Landis says the explanation is not to be found in the development of a competitive highway system. Many trucking concerns have gone bankrupt, auto transportation is congested, parking space at a premium and parking rates sky high.

Air transportation has likewise been hit. One airline is bankrupt, others show losses, air cargo carriers have been forced to suspend operations and the federal government must subsidize airlines to the tune of 80 million dollars a year.

In the energy field, the price of natural gas has doubled. Hydroelectric power has not been adequately developed. Hydrogenation of coal is undeveloped, though this process for exploding coal at the mine instead of transporting it long distances and burning it inefficiently was discovered 30 years ago. Use of atomic energy for power is still decades away.

"Were our traditional regulatory methods capable of surmounting these problems," says Landis, "my report would have been meaningless."

This introduces An Entirely New Element into the philosophy of the regulatory agencies. The original concept when they were created was that they should control the industries they were regulating, to keep them honest, and to keep them from becoming powerful monopolies.

What Landis now seems to be emphasizing is that the regulatory agencies should also be responsible for promoting the growth of the industries they regulate, while still protecting the public interests of the consumers.

She is also getting in the movie swim with an hour and a half documentary about the feat. It is being filmed by a crew headed by Jerry Courneya, veteran producer of travel and sports films, including a series with Errol Flynn.

Courneya is enthused about the film's possibilities. "We'll make the Molokai Channel the heavy," he says. "We'll show all the preparations for the swim—Greta's fear of sharks and all that. We'll build up suspense and the swim will be the climax of the picture."

How does Greta feel about all this? She's an easy-going (on land) Dane who seems willing to try anything.

"I've never done any acting," she admitted. "But that's going to be easy. It's the swimming that's difficult."

Long-distance swimming is not a big-money enterprise, she admitted.

"I have averaged $15,000 to $20,000 a year from it," she said. "But by the time I pay expenses and Johnny leaves his job for three months, there isn't much profit."

Greta is the 1948 100-meter Olympic champion who came to America from her native Denmark in 1953. She tried teaching swimming, but found it boring. In 1956, she entered a swim at Atlantic City, won $4,000 and found a new career. She won the English Channel race in 1957 and 1958, another record.

So it's a wise husband who never grows so disinterested in his wife's looks that she stops dressing to please him and starts dressing to make other women jealous. That is not a happy switch for a woman—and it's a mighty expensive switch for the man who pays her bills.

And that is when the money starts to fly. For a woman can please a husband with simple, inexpensive clothes—just so that they are becoming and make her look pretty. But when she starts trying to impress other women she has to go in for the very latest fashions, the most awe-inspiring labels, and the shops she buys from have to be impressive when she starts name-dropping.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—

How does President Kennedy look after less than three weeks in office?

If he follows the course of his first 20 days, you can expect this:

1. His is going to be a middle-of-the-road administration. It will be more liberal than conservative but it will shun extremes.

2. He will be an extremely active president. He already has poured out proposals to get the economy moving.

3. In foreign affairs he will be firm, non-belligerent, imaginative and human. He will try to do business quietly, without playing to the grandstand.

4. He will be very political-minded in dealing with Congress, unlike President Eisenhower who showed distaste for politics and kept hands off Congress.

5. He'll be the boss in his administration.

Perhaps the best example of his middle-road attitude is in his proposal to raise the minimum wage from $1 an hour to $1.25. He could have suggested boosting it to $1.25 in one crack. That would have meant trouble with Congress, maybe no raise at all.

So he asked only for $1.15 this year—which is far as the Eisenhower administration would go—and $1.25 two years from now.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt's activity was limited to a wheelchair. President Harry S. Truman got around in the usual, predictable way without mingling with people much. Dwight D. Eisenhower, except for golf, stayed rather alone in the White House.

Kennedy has hopped all over Washington: to a late movie; to friends' homes for dinner or a party; to the State Department to sit in on conferences.

He has been firm with the Russians in foreign affairs—too firm, they think—but has said nothing deliberately to irritate them.

He has made it clear he wants to deal with them quietly, has offered to cooperate with them on earth and in space. But he isn't rushing toward them.

He and his aides are studying the problems—particularly disarmament and nuclear testing—in the hope of finding answers, perhaps new ones, as he said.

Self-interest will be involved in American foreign policy, but Kennedy hasn't used it as a flag.

Indications are that Kennedy will be the boss in his administration, even if he has to slap down some of his own people to prove it.

When his ambassador to the United Nations, Adlai E. Stevenson, guessed out loud Kennedy would be glad to meet with Premier Khrushchev if he comes here, the White House quickly, crisply said Stevenson talked for himself.

Do You Need Vitamins? Here's How to Judge

By Harold Thomas Hyman, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

What's the truth about vitamins anyway?

I was shocked the other day to read in an official government publication that the Department of Justice was forced to seize 50,600 bottles of mis-labeled vitamin preparations, manufactured and sold by one of the most respected drug companies.

Since most of us are bombarded with misinformation about vitamins, here is a brief review of the role these important food elements play in the lives of normal individuals, eating average meals served in the average civilized community:

● The average American diet provides more than the daily requirement of all vitamins. The label on the seized bottles that suggested the impossibility of maintaining adequate nutrition on a diet of ordinary foods because of "depleted soils, premature harvesting, faulty storage, processing, overcooking and chemical destruction" is, as charged, false.

● Equally false is the statement that "practically everyone is, or is in danger of, suffering from inadequate vitamin and mineral nutrition unless a vitamin or mineral supplement is added to the diet."

For example, I have never in my professional life seen a vitamin deficiency in an otherwise healthy American who ate the average foods, served from the average American kitchen, by the average American housewife.

● There is no virtue in taking vitamin excesses. There is no such thing as an anti-infective vitamin. The claims that C vitamins (ascorbic or cevitaminic acid) prevent or modify the common cold or rheumatic fever have been exploded. The claim that A vitamin exerts a favorable influence on acne is nonsense. And the claims for E vitamin, relative to fertility and heart disease have been disproven.

In these difficult times, with living costs steadily rising, there's no need for the housewife to purchase supplementary vitamins, minerals or special foods so long as she serves a breakfast of orange or tomato juice, a hot cereal with sugar, butter and milk; bread or toast with butter or oleomargarine; and whole milk that's been enriched with vitamin D; a luncheon of a meat or cheese sandwich or hamburger or hot dogs, milk or cocoa and an apple or a banana; and a dinner that includes meat, fish or poultry; potato; a green and a yellow vegetable; bread and butter; and a dessert of canned fruit, fruit pie or an occasional treat of ice cream.

These recommendations should not be interpreted as a blanket condemnation of vitamin therapy. WHEN NEEDED. But, unless you have a true vitamin deficiency, diagnosed by your doctor, and you have been ordered to take a specific vitamin, prescribed by your doctor, better spend the hard-earned household dollar on what folks used to call "vitales."

Tells Of Land Grant Colleges At Kiwanis Meeting

WINCHESTER — Scott Longenbaugh, Principal at the Winchester Elementary School, was guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Winchester Kiwanis Club on Tuesday evening of this week following the 6:15 o'clock dinner at the Hotel Winchester.

Longenbaugh presented a paper on "Land Grant Colleges" in which he told the history of such colleges and of the man some people considered the father of the land grant college system, Jonathan Baldwin Turner. Jonathan Baldwin Turner, for which the Junior High School in Jacksonville has been named, came to Jacksonville in 1827 when 21 years of age with a band of seven Yale students who had pledged themselves to go to Illinois as missionaries and extend education in the west. These seven men met with some of the local citizens and organized Illinois College. Turner returned to Yale to complete his studies and upon their completion was asked to teach at Illinois College which he did. The paper further told of his work in establishing a State University for Agriculture in Illinois and of the efforts made by him and many others in locating the Agricultural College at the Champaign-Urbana site. In conclusion the paper stated that "American Agriculture and all who receive so many benefits from our Land-Grant colleges can be deeply grateful for his persistent and effective efforts put forth for the betterment of agriculture in our nation. The business meeting preceding the program was in charge of president Carl E. Evans who announced that the Petersburg Club will be guests of the local Kiwanians at next week's meeting and present to the Winchester Club the Traveling Manul.

Our Saviour's Mission Services Start Feb. 12

A two weeks' mission will begin at Our Saviour's church Sunday, Feb. 12. The Rev. Frank J. O'Hara, pastor of St. Kevin church, Rosewood Heights, Ill., will conduct the mission. The last mission was held at the local Catholic parish in 1956, at which time two Franciscan priests were the directors.

The first week of the mission will begin with the services at 7:30 p.m. on Sunday, Feb. 12 and the entire week will be devoted to a series of sermons for the women of the parish. Special services will be held during the day for the school children. The women's mission will close Friday, Feb. 17 at 7:30 p.m.

The men's mission will begin on Sunday, Feb. 19 and will continue until Friday evening, Feb. 24.

Father O'Hara was born in Chicago, Feb. 19, 1916. He attended Quigley Preparatory Seminary in Chicago and Kenrick Seminary, St. Louis, Mo. He was ordained by the late Bishop Griffin in the Springfield Cathedral, March 30, 1941. Father O'Hara is a classmate of the present pastor of Our Saviour's church, Msgr. M. O. Driscoll. He was assistant pastor of the Cathedral for ten years, being named pastor of St. Denis church, Shipman, in 1951.

In 1959 he was selected by Bishop O'Connor to start a new parish in Rosewood Heights, a suburb of Wood River. He has conducted many retreats throughout the Midwest and is in demand for mission work in many Illinois parishes. He will conduct a mission in Joliet after leaving Jacksonville.

While the principal mission sermon will be given at the evening devotions, Father O'Hara will also give a five minute sermonette following each Mass on week-day mornings. Confessions will be heard during all Masses and after the evening devotions. The evening devotions, which include prayers for the sick, for the deceased of the parish, for fallen-away Catholics and for religious vocations, will center around the sermon followed by Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. Father O'Hara, by virtue of special faculties received from Rome, will impart the blessing of Pope John XXIII at the Friday evening closing services.

The Altar and Rosary Society will sponsor a religious articles display in the lobby of the grade school during the mission.

Be Simple And Be Specific To Write Readable Report

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.
with HARRY KARNES

Your outline is the skeleton of your written report.

In the last chapter we talked about how to build the skeleton and hinge it together. Now let's talk about how to put the flesh on the bones.

If you have performed all the other steps faithfully and well, this should be one of the easiest of all.

It is simply a matter of adding details, of expanding on the ideas which you have outlined.

When you undertake this expansion project, it is best to forget about "style" and write as naturally and simply as you can. Write as swiftly as you can but with the idea of making your first copy a finished product.

Remember as you write that words are tools to be used for conveying ideas. If they do not convey your meaning, you have failed in the use of your tools. The greatest writers write sentences and words that are easily understood. They do not try to be "literary."

It is good to have a large vocabulary so you can understand everything you read, but when you write, do not try to show off your big words.

A high school graduate of today recognizes about 50,000 words but actually uses about 10,000. A college graduate recognizes about

Send for the booklet NOW!

70,000 but actually uses about 15,000. John Milton used only 11,000 and Homer 9,000.

The Right Word

Here are some suggestions that will help you select the words that will do the best job for you:

1. Choose the familiar word rather than the unfamiliar.
2. Use concrete terms rather than their vague cousins. When you mean "black," say "black"—not "dark." When you mean "tulip," say "tulip,"—not "flower." Don't say rodent if you mean rat, elderly if you mean 86, money, if you mean $5, weapon if you mean carbine, or officer if you mean brigadier general.

This rule is not intended to be rigid, for naturally there are instances in which the abstract term is used because there is no specific reference. But by and large it is a sound rule of writing to prefer the concrete to the abstract.

After you have written your first copy of your paper, put it aside overnight.

Now read it again. As you read, check it for soundness of thought. You may discover, after letting it rest overnight, that certain points need to be made clearer. Others may make more sense if shifted to different positions in the paper. Still others may seem invalid or unnecessary. Make the corrections.

Read the paper a second time, correcting the grammar, the spelling, and the punctuation.

Be Simple
and Specific

If it is at all possible, try to get a preliminary criticism of the paper from your teacher.

Take the paper home again and rewrite it to include any helpful hints he may have offered.

When you feel that you have done everything possible to produce an effective paper, you are ready to make a final "clean" copy.

Play It Safe

Neatness is IMPORTANT. This is a child of your brain. Wash his face and hands and dress him in his best.

Try to produce an errorless copy, written in a clear script or on a typewriter, if required by your teacher.

Leave ample margins. Follow the teacher's directions.

Sometimes people wonder why the calendar for the school year is arranged as it is. The responsibility for establishing a calendar rests with the Board of Education, however, the law has much to do with it. The district is required to have 176 days with children in school and these 176 days must fall within a nine-months period. That is, if school begins on September 1, then it must close on May 31, unless the district has voted to extend the school year beyond the 176 days. Holidays and institute days may not be counted in the required number of days.

The penalty for not having the required days is withdrawal of state aid, which in District 117 amounts to $400,000 per year.

If days are missed they must be made up. This year's calendar has two days at Easter and an extra day which could be used if weather or unforeseen situations should cause school to be dismissed.

When your opponents get to a slam voluntarily you don't expect to beat them badly. Of course, there are occasions when even the best of partnerships go haywire, but year in and year out winning players like to reserve the double of a voluntarily bid slam as a lead directing bid.

What lead should it call for? The most popular convention is one first suggested by Theodore A. Lighner, one of our all-time great players. It not only calls for an unusual lead, but generally for the MOST unusual lead.

East doesn't have much of a heart overcall, but he has good clubs in back of North's opening club bid.

After South reaches six spades, East has no idea if he can set the contract, but he has a pretty good idea that his best chance is to set it to get a club lead from his partner. He also knows that in this case the double will clearly call for a club opening.

The reason is that West's normal lead would be a heart—the suit East bid. Then how does East know that the double won't produce a diamond lead from West? Because, if East wanted a diamond lead he had a chance to double North's ace-showing bid of five diamonds.

♥-CARD Sense-♦
Q—The bidding has been:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass ?
You, South, hold:
♠ A Q 8 7 ♥ 5 ♦ K 5 ♣ K J 9 4 3
What do you do?
A—Bid three clubs. You have such fine spade support that you can afford to suggest slam possibilities in spite of only 13 high card points.

Your partner rebids to three spades. What do you do now?

Plan World Day Of Prayer Observance At Roodhouse

ROODHOUSE—The 75th anniversary of the World Day of Prayer will be observed Feb. 17th in the First Baptist Church at 2 p.m. with the Christian and the Methodist Churches cooperating. The service of worship has for its theme "Forward Through the Ages." The service is being used in 145 areas, translated into countless languages, drawing together a multitude of Christians who are using the same theme, singing the same songs, uniting their hearts and renewing their purposes in the name of the God and Father of us all.

The offering given at the World Day of Prayer service goes to help many home and foreign interdenominational projects, such as: preparing Christian literature, writing Sunday School materials, providing books for libraries, sending Christian workers to migrant boys and girls in government schools, underwriting medical and clinical care in some areas. Our giving is important, for it helps us to feel a part of the worldwide church dedicated to telling the good news of Christ to those who have not yet heard.

Those serving as leaders in the service from the participating churches are: Christian Church, Mrs. Julian Sheppard, Jr., and Mrs. Raymond Watkins; Methodist Church, Mrs. Charles E. Martin and Mrs. Harvey Hodge; First Baptist Church, Mrs. Clem Coats. A union choir under the direction of Mrs. L. W. Brannan will lead the congregational singing. Mrs. Frieda Navins will be the organist and Mrs. H. L. Janvin will serve as pianist for the service.

A cordial invitation is extended to all the people in Roodhouse and in the Roodhouse area to come to the First Baptist Church on Friday, Feb. 17, from 2 to 3 p.m. and be a part of this world-wide fellowship of prayer.

Top scrambled eggs with creamed spinach for something good and different. Nice for lunch with baked potatoes and broiled tomatoes.

Ohio State Holds The Lead In Every Phase Of League Statistics

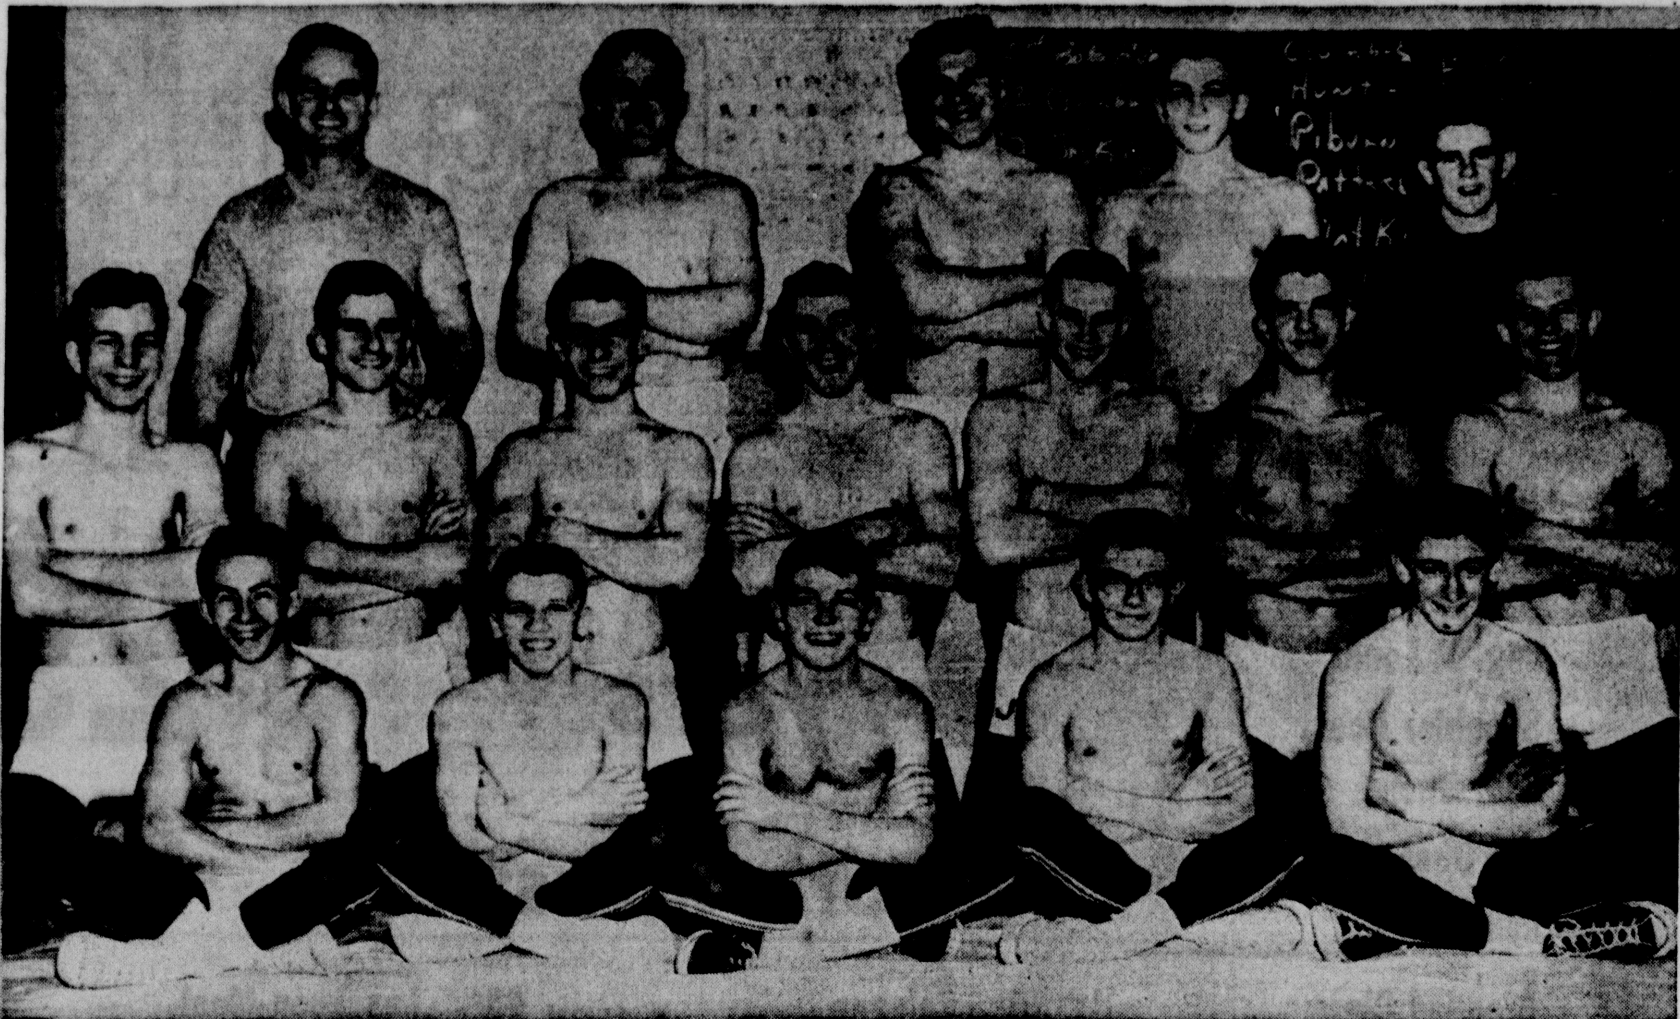

CHICAGO (AP) — Ohio State's scintillating Buckeyes continued to dominate Big Ten basketball statistics Wednesday and the Buckeye Jerry Lucas in pushing Purdue's Terry Dischinger for the individual scoring title.

The Buckeyes, ranked No. 1 nationally by The Associated Press, hold the lead in every phase of team play after sweeping to seven successive league victories.

Ohio's Wonder Quintet is tops in scoring with a per game average of 88.1, well ahead of runnerup Illinois which has 76.5. On defense, the Buckeyes have held opponents to a 59.8 average compared with Iowa's next best yield of 60.8.

In rebounding the Buckeyes replaced Indiana as team leader, snagging an average of 51.3 retrieves. Illinois now is second in this department with an even 50

Rockets Test Auburn Friday Night; Crimsons Visit Solons Saturday

By STAN SPOTTS

The Routt Rockets are the only local quintet taking advantage of the home court this weekend and their game with Auburn Friday night plus the telecast of the Jacksonville-Springfield contest Saturday night from the State Armory highlights the prep schedule which is dwindling rapidly. After this week there are only two weeks remaining for the prep fives throughout the state to get their houses in order for the regional grind. For many there isn't that much time as the smaller schools have only a week to prepare for the district which is the first step of the elimination series that takes the winners to the Elite Eight at Champaign where a new state champ will be crowned Saturday night, March 18.

Last Home Game

Coach Bob Winstead's Rockets will be making their final appearance Friday night in Our Saviour's gymnasium against the Auburn Trojans at eight o'clock. Routt has one remaining home game left with Farmersville next Friday night, Feb. 17, but it has been moved to the JHS Bowl where the Rockets will conclude their season 11 days before the Jacksonville Regional Opens.

Routt journeys to Perry next Tuesday night in quest of an undisputed PMSC Conference championship in their next-to-last appearance of the regular season. A win over the Pioneers would give the Rockets an 8-0 mark in the standings and the league title.

The Rockets, 17-5 on the season, have their hands full in trying to stop an improved Auburn quintet. Routt hit 26 of 50 shots against the Trojans in the Waverly Holiday tournament for a 52 per cent average and a 69-64 triumph with guard Fred Curtis setting a new Routt scoring record in the process. Curtis hit 15 of 21 attempts from the field enroute to a 41-point output, his all-time high. He picked up 36 last Friday in a 66-63 win over New Berlin.

Auburn has shown improvement as its second place finish to Williamsville in the Sangamon County tourney indicates. Enroute to the finals Auburn picked off favored Farmers, The Trojans, 13-9 for the year. Bob Taylor, Deano Sargent and Les Potts are the starting five. Winstead's usual five is composed of Joe Cors, Fred Curtis, Ed Carroll, Jack Lawless and Bucky Sullivan. A preliminary game is scheduled for 6:45 p.m.

Rugged TV Debut

The State Armory, television and Springfield High may be the contributing factors to the end of Jacksonville High's five-game winning streak Saturday night. The Armory, always a jinx to the Crimsons for some reason, and Coach Ray Page's Senators will be blamed more if the Jacks lose than will WICS, Channel 20, which is telecasting the action starting at 8:00 p.m. A preliminary contest is slated for 6:30 p.m.

Springfield, who has lost two straight, gets a chance to climb back on the victory bandwagon with a home game against Danville Friday night. The Senators, who are City champs for the third straight year, have won 17 of 20 starts. They also placed second in the Pontiac Holiday tourney after yielding to Clinton. The Solons also have been ranked high all season in both prep polls. Their height will cause the Crimsons a lot of concern as will their defense which is a lot better than their offense.

Springfield is averaging 44.1 points a game from the field and has a 71.1 free throw percentage. The Solon starters are Bob Pehr, 6-5, George Simmons, 6-3, or Bob Trumphy, 6-4, Larry Bauer, 6-7, Tom Pirk, 6-1, and Dick Hinkle, 5-9. Hinkle missed practice Tuesday with a hip injury and if it hasn't mended properly then the first replacement, Bill Cornman, 5-11, will start in his position. Pehr is the leading scorer with a 16.9 average followed by Bauer's 16.2 mark.

After suffering eight straight losses after compiling a 2-2 record, the Crimsons have shown vast improvement late to win their last five starts for an overall mark of seven wins, 10 losses. Coach John Chapman will probably stick with his winning combination composed of Chip Baldwin, Ron Yates, Ken Norton, Bill Sims and Ron Tomhave.

Other Contests

MacMurray is out of town this weekend, meeting Lewis College Friday night and Illinois Tech on Saturday night. The Highlanders have a five-game winning streak going and are 13-4 for the year. Illinois College, losers in its last

BIGGEST YET AT PHOENIX
PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Most of professional golf's finest craftsmen, including all but one of the 1961 tourney winners, will set out Thursday in quest of the biggest jackpot ever offered by the Phoenix Open.

Billy Maxwell, who pocketed first money at Palm Springs last weekend, is the only champion from the five-meet swing through California not on hand for the four-day scramble for $30,000.

With the new year having failed to produce a two-time winner or even some consistency among the high finishers, no one is pointing to a single favorite.

Griffin Nudges JHS Freshmen In Thriller, 71-70

"One of the finest games you'd ever want to witness" in the opinion of Coach Al Rosenberger went against his JHS Freshmen Wednesday night as two Griffin free throws after the game had ended resulted in a 71-70 loss for the Crimsons.

Both teams displayed near perfect form in the close affair and were red hot from the field. Each finished up with 21 points the fourth quarter.

With three seconds remaining Griffin led, 68-68, but a 15-footer by George Florence sailed through the nets just as the horn sounded to end play. But Florence was called for charging on his follow-through and Griffin's Blush hit both of the one and one charity tosses with no time remaining on the clock to pull it out for the Springfield five.

Griffin now, 11-2 for the year, had beaten the Jacks earlier in the season, 58-42. Jacksonville suffered its fourth reversal in 16 games. They have three contests remaining.

The Crimson 'B' team annexed its 10th win without a loss, 57-43, with Monty Sechrist and Joe Baptist flipping in 11 points each.

Four Hawkeye Starters Become Ineligible

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP)—Ninth-ranked Iowa's hopes to overtake undefeated Ohio State in the Big Ten basketball race collapsed Wednesday when four Hawkeye starters became scholastically ineligible.

The only regular available for the remainder of the season is junior Don Nelson, the team's leading scorer with a 22-point average.

Sidelined by classroom failures were sophomores Frank Allen and Tom Harris, junior Dave Maher and senior Ron Zagar.

"After a fine start this season, the loss of these men certainly dims any chance of a strong finish in the conference race," said Coach Sharm Schuerman.

The Hawkeyes have won 12 of 16 games, losing only to St. Louis, Purdue and Cincinnati.

Iowa has a 4-1 conference record — second best in the Big Ten — and was considered the only team with a chance to dethrone top-ranked Ohio State.

The Hawkeyes play at Indiana Saturday, host Wisconsin Monday and then entertain Ohio State Feb. 18.

BUSY DAY FOR CHAMP
SPRING VALLEY, N. Y. (AP) — Heavyweight Champion Floyd Patterson boxed four rounds Wednesday after doing 44 miles of roadwork. Patterson boxed two rounds each with John Henry and Wilson Hannibal, both of New York.

The champion will second his brother Ray, a sparsmate, in the Golden Gloves Thursday night at Sunnyside Garden in New York.

Tennessee State Pushed For Top Spot By Southern

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Tennessee State faced a stiff challenge from both Southern Illinois and Prairie View in the latest Associated Press small college basketball poll, but State still tops the list.

Despite a defeat at the hands of Southern Illinois, a team it defeated earlier, and another setback by St. Bonaventure, No. 2 among the major colleges, Tennessee State picked up enough votes from a panel of sports writers and sportscasters to hold the lead.

Southern Illinois edged Prairie View for second place, with Hofstra and Mississippi Southern close behind. Maine was sixth, followed by Grambling, Northern Michigan, Westminster and Kentucky Wesleyan.

The only newcomer among the top 10 was Northern Michigan which charged into eighth place. American University dropped off the list.

The top 10, with first place votes and won-loss records in parentheses (points on a 10-9-8 etc. basis):

1. Tennessee State (2) (17-3) 74
2. Southern Illinois (2) (17-3) 65
3. Prairie View (3) (17-3) 65
4. Hofstra (14-0) 44
5. Mississippi Southern (17-1) 42
6. Maine (1) (15-1) 35
7. Grambling (20-3) 30
8. Northern Michigan (13-1) 20
9. Westminster, Pa. (13-2) 17
10. Kentucky Wesleyan (11-6) 11

New Yankee Manager Looks For Tight Race

By RALPH HOUK
SADDLE RIVER, N.J. (AP)—The Yankees will be a solid contender to repeat in the American League. But I look for a rough race right down to the wire.

Naturally, I realize my own job is not going to be easy. After all, I'm taking over from Casey Stengel, one of the best managers of them all. We lost some fine talent to the new Washington and Los Angeles clubs, guys like Bob Cerv, Bobby Shantz, Elmer Gabe and Duke Maas.

We could use another starting pitcher, but overall I don't think our pitching is weak. Such regulars as Whitey Ford, Bob Turley, Art Ditmar, Ralph Terry, Jim Coates, Ryne Duren and Bill Skowron give us a sound nucleus.

In addition, several of our younger pitchers will be given every chance to make the club. They include Billy Shott, Hal Stowe, Jim Brunstad and Johnny James. We got lefty Danny McDewitt from the Dodgers and he could help.

Except for third base, I can just about write down the rest of the Yankee lineup right now. At third, I expect Deron Johnson, a long ball hitter up from Richmond, to give Glete Boyer a regular spot. Bill Skowron will be at first base. Bobby Richardson at second and Tony Kubek at third. Joe DeMaestri is an excellent utility infielder.

I'm going to go with Hector Lopez in left field. Mickey Mantle, of course, will be in center and Roger Maris in right.

The catching is the best in the league with Yogi Berra, Elston Howard and Johnny Blanchard. Yogi will double as a left fielder while Howard gives us protection at first base and at first base.

As I said, I'm not discounting the other clubs. Baltimore has that terrific young pitching and a good infield. Chicago strengthened its pitching and Cleveland has improved.

Johansson's Training Camp On Full Alert

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Ingemar Johansson's training camp went on a full alert Wednesday with arrival of Whitey Bimstein, the Swedish challenger's trainer.

Ingemar and Whitey met in the clubhouse at a golf course after Johansson had finished a five-mile run.

Whitey checked his watch. It was a little after 9 a.m. "From now on we hit the road at 6:30 a.m., right ingo?" Whitey asked. Johansson nodded.

It was established that Bimstein will be the No. 1 man in Ingemar's corner when the Swede faces Champion Floyd Patterson in their return match at Miami Beach Convention Hall March 13.

"Nils (Blomberg) will be there and Eddie (Ahlgren)," said Johansson. "But only Whitey will talk. Maybe Eddie will tell me some things in Swedish but Whitey says, but I leave the strategy up to Whitey. I think he is the smartest corner man in the business."

"Ingemar is coming along fine," Bimstein said. "I like the way he looks but we're really going to turn on the steam this coming month."

Copley Services Held In Scott

WINCHESTER — Funeral services for Fredrick Eugene (Gene) Copley were held Wednesday afternoon at 2 p.m. at the Cunningham Rev. Home in this city with Rev. W. E. Thurmond, pastor of the Assembly of God church officiating.

Vocalists were Mrs. Beulah Ray Bishop and Mrs. Mary Roussey who sang "Beyond the Sunset" and "Good Night and Good Morning." They were accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Albert Herring who also played two organ selections, "The Old Rugged Cross" and "No Night There."

Casketbearers were Howard Landreth, Levelette Walker, Virgil Dawson, Gene Waters, Gene Kesinger, and Ray Atkinson. The floral tributes were cared for by Kathryn Landreth, Shirley Waters, LaVerne Barnes, Doris Camp, and Betty Jackson.

Interment was in the Fernwood cemetery at Roodhouse.

Community Stews Over Fines For Overdue Library Books

EAST ORANGE, N. J. (AP) — This community stewed Wednesday over the "literary scofflaws" controversy as four more readers paid court fines of $10 to $25 for overdue library books.

But the pain in the purse was nothing compared to the anger over such indignities as being arrested, hauled off to police headquarters, and then being detained for failure to make bond.

Mayor James W. Kelly was "shocked and surprised" at the results of a city ordinance passed last September providing for fines up to $200 and 30-day jail terms for persons failing to return library books.

Library Director Harold Roth, technically the complainant in the cases, was "not very happy" when his home phone rang all night with calls from irate citizens and newspapers including the London Daily Mail.

"This is an expensive way to collect books, for both the city and the people," Roth said. "We didn't want to implement the ordinance. We just want to get the material back."

The furor began Monday night when police started rounding up library patrons who had failed to read their overdue notices. Eleven persons whose library cards were charged with books for periods ranging from several months to almost a year were brought in, or summoned to police headquarters.

Six who were unable to post a $100 fine were confined overnight. The arrests were made in the evening and some past midnight because that was the time people were found at home.

Brought before Magistrate William P. Wilkins Tuesday, seven men paid fines of $25 each.

An eleven man, who said he could not pay his fine, was sentenced to 8 days in jail. The jail term was cancelled when he paid later.

Four others paid fines Wednesday and Wilkins is hearing more cases Thursday and Friday.

The magistrate said he imposed the fines not because the books were overdue but because public authority had been defied.

Mayor Kelly was more sympathetic.

"I certainly didn't think it would require anyone to spend the night in jail," he said. "I don't think that was the intent of the council when it passed the law in September."

George Kennan Named Envoy To Yugoslavia

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has chosen George F. Kennan, former U.S. envoy to the Soviet Union, to be ambassador to Yugoslavia.

Kennan also announced the selection of Livingston T. Merchant as ambassador to Canada. Merchant served as envoy to Canada for a time during the Eisenhower administration, and later as undersecretary of state for political affairs.

Kennan, a veteran Foreign Service officer, now is a professor at the Institute for Advanced Study at Princeton University. He has had extensive government service in foreign affairs.

Order $5 Million Made Available For Farm Housing

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy Wednesday ordered that an additional $5 million be made available to farm housing loans to low income farmers during the remainder of the fiscal year ending June 30.

The White House also ordered the secretary of agriculture to speed up about $25 million in payments to farmers holding crops in storage under the farm surplus program. He directed that this money be made available in early March to help meet spring planting costs.

The demand for housing loans is running far ahead of a year ago and as a consequence presently available funds would be exhausted before the end of the fiscal year. The new money would come from an Agricultural Department contingency fund already authorized by Congress.

These loans are made by the department's Farmers Home Administration to farmers who are unable to obtain credit elsewhere at reasonable rates of interest.

Farm housing loans are made for construction and repair of farm houses and essential farm buildings. These loans bear 4 percent interest and repayable over a period of up to 33 years.

Solons See Motion Picture Of Ham Taken On Space Flight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ham the chimpanzee lived up to his name, hamming it up for all he was worth in a motion picture of his recent rocket ride into space.

His grimaces, flashing eyes and teeth-baring scowls outdid some of the most flamboyant stars of the silent movie days as he portrayed the role of the intertid explorer venturing into the unknown.

Much of the half hour film was taken by a camera fixed in the capsule that carried Ham 155 miles high and dumped him in the Atlantic Ocean 420 miles from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

It was given its first public showing Wednesday before the House Space Committee.

The picture was all in closeups and the rubbery-faced little ape made the most of it.

His wild-eyed glances over his shoulder as the Redstone rocket shot him along at 5,000 m.p.h. were more expressive than those of any terrified maiden fleeing from a Hollywood villain.

And no actor has ever shown angry frustration more clearly than did Ham when a booster rocket suddenly slammed him back against his couch with 17 times the force of gravity. He bared his teeth with the ferocity of Boris Karloff but his eyes remained pure Charlie Chaplin.

Acting aside, Ham's performance delighted the producers of the movie — the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, which hopes some day to turn out a sequel starring a human being.

George Low, technical director of the man in space project, who narrated the movie, said Ham performed flawlessly, pulling levers in response to flashing lights during all stages of the flight—even the 6 1/2 minutes he spent in a weightless state.

Ham was obviously pleased himself. The final scene, taken aboard the ship to which the capsule was brought after its recovery, showed him lying on his back in bed, his head pillowed on his folded arms.

While a veterinarian checks him over and other people hover about anxiously Ham looks serenely at the earthbound creatures, his face the picture of self-satisfaction.

HAMPSHIRE BOARS—

WHAT EVER HAPPENED TO BABY JANE

By Henry Farrell

Copyright © 1960 by Henry Farrell. Distributed by Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

THE STORY: Although Edwin Flagg's mother sacrificed a great deal to give him a musical education, he has never done a day's work in his life. In desperation and boredom, he answers a newspaper ad for an accountant. He finds that the ad was placed by an old woman. Flagg doesn't know that this woman is the former child star Baby Jane Hudson.

XVI
Abandoning her teacup to the table, the old girl pulled her feet under her and, with grotesque kittenishness, leaned back.

"Well," she said slowly. "I suppose I ought to tell you I've been retired—for a time. I had to give up my career for a while because of illness in the family."

"But now you're free again—to return to your profession?"

"Oh, yes—yes, indeed." He looked at the old girl with veiled speculation: She must have some money tucked away somewhere, an inheritance probably if there had been a recent death in the family.

"Can you describe your act?"

"I'm Baby Jane Hudson." His first thought was that he had surely misunderstood her. "Baby Jane Hudson?" he said cautiously.

She nodded, looking at him now with doubt and disappointment. "Uh-huh."

"Well," he said. He hesitated, then went quickly on. "Well, I just don't believe it!"

"With this bogus show of astonishment he saved the day. Her face came instantly alight, and she leaned forward, clasping her hands about her knees in a gesture of girlish enthusiasm."

"I'm going to revive my old act. This way I used to do."

Edwin turned his attention to the piano. "Well—of course I don't quite remember—"

"Oh, of course not. But I do want your opinion, Mr. Flagg. Before you came I put out all the pictures in the rehearsal room so you can look at them and tell me what you think."

She turned to him, her smile suddenly brilliant. "Oh, I wish Daddy could be here right now! You can't ever lose your talent, he used to tell me. Once you're born with talent, you have it all your life long. You can lose money, youth and looks, but—"

In the rehearsal room, she led him to the piano and showed him a large leather-bound scrapbook.

"While you're looking, I'll just go clear away the tea things." She turned and started toward the door.

"Why don't I come and help?" Edwin offered, half in malice.

"Oh, no. I can do it." She turned back in the doorway. "Your first name is Edwin?"

Edwin nodded.

"Edwin," she murmured and then she swung about and left the room, closing the door very carefully. Edwin gave his attention to the piano. A good make, expensive.

He stared at the first of the photographs. From a faded print brown with age, a little girl of seven or eight with dark curls and huge wide-set eyes grinned up at him with a guile that might have done credit to a coquette of 20.

The child appeared again and again, in an endless parade of costumes and poses, looking, it seemed to him, just a bit more cloyingly cute in each succeeding portrait.
